

OUR IMPACT PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMME

Let's Demonstrate and Communicate your Value to Stakeholders

Impact measurement and management have gained considerable ground over the last decade. Organisations have identified the need to provide transparency to their stakeholders, integrate sustainable practices into their business and provide value to society, alongside maximising their financial performance.

To date, there are no measurable and actionable set of values that could realistically complement profit maximisation as a guiding objective. Organisations are still facing difficulties in measuring and managing their impact, despite all efforts, and consequently fail to maximise their value creation to society. Even when societal value is created, communicating this remains challenging.

To address these issues, Impact Institute has developed a set of development programmes. These programmes offer a range of practical tools, built on our proven methods, and learning experiences to equip professionals with the right knowledge and skills to measure impact, steer on impact, and develop future business strategies. Our trainings enable professionals to apply impact as a concept in their day-to-day lives and use it as a proposition differentiator in stakeholder engagements.

"Impact Institute's method and tool allow us to not only measure our impact, but also to manage the value creation for our stakeholders. So we can keep improving our services and have real impact on people."

Annemiek Dresen
Founder & Director

"We compared most of the frameworks about impact measurement out there and Impact Institute proved to be the best solution, due to its rigor and its solid, scientifically-proven and data-driven method."

Mikkel Larsen
Chief Sustainability Officer

How can we help you?

Our Impact Professional Programme covers all the tools needed to undertake impact measurement and management. We offer an introductory course for a wide range of professional profiles to get started with impact, including three training programmes tailored to specific functions, and a certification programme for professionals who want to gain deeper understanding and skills with regards to impact. You will learn from our experts and will gain the knowledge needed to directly apply our approach to your organisation's challenges. The programme addresses your development needs and allows you to learn from real-life assignments and your peers from various organisations.
